

Communication, Influence and Connection

A curated 90-day workplace program helping people communicate, build trust, and contribute meaningfully.

This program addresses the thing that sits underneath almost every communication problem in the workplace: not only a lack of skills, but a lack of conditions.

When people do not feel safe, seen, or genuinely connected to the people around them, communication breaks down regardless of what you train them on.

Through five live, expert-led webinars, participants explore the inner and practical conditions that allow people to communicate effectively, build trust, contribute ideas, navigate challenges, and connect more meaningfully at work.

The Five-Session Program

1. The Psychology of Influence	Best-selling author and professional speaker	Become the influence before you try to create it. Learn how heart and brain science shapes who people will follow.
2. Creativity Is a Skill	WELLOGA founder, published author and international speaker	Reconnect with your creative voice, see creativity as a learnable skill, identify what blocks it, and feel confident expressing your ideas.
3. Psychological Safety @ Work	Built and sold a successful consulting company	Explore why psychological safety and accountability are essential for a healthy workplace culture, individual well-being, and a supportive environment.
4. Active Listening & Strategic Communications	Harvard Fellow Negotiation expert, CEO & Founder	Learn how to meet people where they are, foster a positive workplace culture, ask better questions, and motivate employees toward growth.
5. The ROI of Gratitude	International best-selling author, speaker and two-time award-winning entrepreneur	Research-backed talk exploring how gratitude strengthens engagement, productivity, innovation, workplace connection while valuing people.

Included

Program details

- Five live, interactive webinars
- Each session 1 hour
- Delivered across a 90-day period
- Expert-led learning experiences
- Takeaways for participants
- 1-hour team assessment and speaker briefings so it's tailored to your team.

Managed by WELLOGA

- Speaker curation
- Scheduling and coordination
- Speaker communications
- Program administration
- One point of contact throughout

About WELLOGA

Rather than booking disconnected one-off speakers, your organization receives a coordinated experience designed around communication, trust, connection, and meaningful contribution.

Done For You	Curated workplace experiences that connect organizations with relevant experts, practical ideas, and meaningful conversations.
Done For You	WELLOGA brings together wellbeing, learning, communication, and human connection to help leaders and teams feel more connected, work more effectively, and contribute at their best.
Accessible	Can you see your organization benefiting from a WELLOGA program like this? Reach out we'd love to tell you more.

Explore the Program Contact Us

Jenn Doheney
Founder, WELLOGA
www.welloga.space